PREFACE

The first edition of Class H, Social Sciences, was published in 1910, the second in 1920, and the third in 1949. The latter edition was reprinted in 1967 with supplementary pages of additions and changes. For the fourth edition, Class H was separated into two parts: H-HJ (Economics), published in 1981, and HM-HX (Sociology), published in 1980. With the 1994 edition, the two parts were reunited into a single volume. This 1997 edition incorporates changes made since 1994 and contains a simplified subclass HJ as well as other revisions described below.

This edition was reviewed by Mary K. D. Pletris, senior cataloging policy specialist. Several minor subarrangements have been deleted; many arrangements in HS and HT, such as those under Freemasons, Oddfellows, slavery, and penal colonies, have been spelled out within the text of the schedule, thus eliminating the need to refer to an external subarrangement table; references and confer notes have been reworded for greater clarity; many captions have been updated to current terminology and style; unneeded A-Z designations where special subarrangement was not intended have been eliminated; the index has been thoroughly reviewed and updated.

This edition includes a completely revised subclass HJ. Gabriel Horchler, team leader of the Business and Economics Team in the Social Sciences Cataloging Division, standardized form and chronological subarrangements, expanded geographic lists, updated topical captions to correspond with terminology used in Library of Congress Subject Headings, and added explanatory notes. The revision has resulted in a more compact subclass. Unnecessarily complex subarrangements have been eliminated and overlapping topics have been consolidated. In most cases, numbers that are no longer used have been parenthesized rather than deleted; see references have been made to refer the user to currently valid numbers. A major goal of the revision was to remove legal materials from HJ. In the area of taxation, for example, topics that are inherently legal, such as double taxation, have been referred to class K; only those works that discuss the economic and social aspects of taxation and other revenue sources used to finance government expenditures will continue to class in HJ.

New or revised numbers and captions are added to the L.C. Classification schedules as a result of development proposals made by the cataloging staff of the Library of Congress and cooperating institutions. Upon approval of these proposals by the weekly editorial meeting of the Cataloging Policy and Support Office, new classification records are created in the master data base or existing records revised. The Classification Editorial Team consisting of Lawrence Buzard, editor, and Barry Bellinger, Kent Griffiths, Nancy Jones, and Dorothy Thomas, assistant editors is responsible for creating new classification records, maintaining the master database, and creating index terms for the captions.

Barbara B. Tillett, Chief
Cataloging Policy and Support Office
June 1997

The additions and changes in Class H adopted while this work was in press will be cumulated and printed in List 267 of LC Classification—Additions and Changes

PREFACE

The first edition of Class Z, Bibliography and Library Science, was published in 1901, the second in 1910, the third in 1926, the fourth in 1959 (reprinted with supplementary pages in 1965), and the fifth in 1980. This 1995 edition has been produced using a new automated system developed at the Library of Congress for this purpose. The system will allow for the production of new editions on a regular and frequent basis.

In 1992, Rebecca Guenther, Network Development and MARC Standards Office, began overseeing the conversion of Library of Congress Classification data to machine-readable form using the provisionally approved USMARC format for classification data. In 1993–1994, the Catalog Distribution Service developed programs for producing printed classification schedules from the MARC records in cooperation with Lawrence Buzard, editor of classification schedules, Paul Weiss, senior cataloging policy specialist, and Rebecca Guenther. The Catalog Distribution Service also coordinated the layout and design of the new schedule.

The classification data were converted to the MARC format largely without editing or revision. As a result, this new edition of Class Z is for the most part a cumulation of existing data rather than a wholly revised edition.

New or revised numbers and captions are added to the L.C. Classification schedules as a result of development proposals made by the cataloging staff of the Library of Congress and cooperating institutions. Upon approval of these proposals by the weekly editorial meeting of the Cataloging Policy and Support Office, new classification records are created and existing records are revised in the master classification database. The classification Editorial Team, consisting of Lawrence Buzard, editor, and Barry Bellinger, Kent Griffiths, Nancy Jones and Dorothy Thomas, assistant editors, is responsible for creating new classification records, maintaining the master database, and creating index terms for the captions.

The Library of Congress is grateful to the Edward Lowe Foundation for its financial assistance in producing this edition of Class Z.

Barbara B. Tillett, Chief
Cataloging Policy and Support Office

September 1995

The additions and changes in Class Z adopted while this work was in press will be cumulated and printed in List 262 of LC Classification—Additions and Changes.
